

BIOGRAPHY

Alexandre Toribio
Head of Flight Crew Training
Embraer Brazil

AMFTA Director

Toribio holds Airline Transport Pilot Licenses for both FAA and ANAC, currently type rated on commercial and executive jets of Embraer. He has accumulated large experience as instructor, Captain and First Officer for commercial, regional and executive aviation and as TRI and TRE.

He began his aviation career in 1986 as flight instructor and later flying executive jets as demo pilot and instructor for both Beechcraft/Raytheon and Flight Safety International.

He started his career in commercial aviation when he joined Rio Sul Linhas Aereas Regionais (Varig Airlines Group), as ERJ145 pilot and as instructor responsible for the training program and implementation of RNAV/GNSS program.

Toribio joined Embraer Headquarters in 2004 as a demo and instructor pilot focused on the APAC region, and in 2007 he was expatriated to China to structure a local team to support Flight Operations and Training for Embraer's ERJ 145, L650 and EMB 190 for Chinese customers. He was responsible for Embraer Flight Operations Services and related Customer Support activities for mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Mongolia.

In 2018 he was invited to return to Brazil as Chief Pilot for Commercial and Defense. In 2023 he has been appointed as Head of Crew Training for Embraer worldwide.

He was born in 1964 and enjoys flying and sailing whenever his work schedule permits.
